

Poster Session: SoTL Research by Philosophy Teachers and Independent Research by Undergraduates in Philosophy

Call for abstracts
Deadline: September 15, 2018

The American Association of Philosophy Teachers (AAPT) and the APA Committee on the Teaching of Philosophy invite proposals for a poster session at AAPT/APA Teaching Hub at the Pacific Division Meeting of the APA, April 17-20, in Vancouver, BC, Canada.

This session is part of the Teaching Hub organized by the AAPT and the APA Committee on the Teaching of Philosophy. The Teaching Hub is a collaborative meeting space that hosts a series of informative programs about the teaching of philosophy at divisional meetings of the APA.

We invite proposals for two different kinds of posters that will be featured at the session:

1. posters by faculty or graduate students describing a pedagogical innovation or original SoTL project.
2. posters by undergraduate students featuring the topic of an honors thesis, summer research project, or other independent research project. We particularly encourage undergraduates to submit who live or study near Denver.

Submission: Please email abstracts of no longer than 300 words as PDF attachments to Kaitlin Louise Pettit (Kaitlin.Pettit@utah.edu) no later than September 1, 2018, with the subject line "2019 Pacific TH poster session submission." Format your abstract for anonymous review.

Deadline for abstracts: Saturday, September 15, 2018.

Questions about this session should be directed to Kaitlin Louise Pettit at the email address above.

The AAPT-APA Teaching Hub is a series of interactive workshops and conversations designed specifically for philosophers and created to celebrate teaching within the context of the APA divisional meetings. Jointly organized by the APA Committee on the Teaching of Philosophy and the American Association of Philosophy Teachers, the Teaching Hub aims to offer a range of high quality and inclusive development opportunities that address the teaching of philosophy at all levels, pre-college through graduate school.
