

American Association of Philosophy Teachers

"To Improve The Quality of Instruction in Philosophy At All Levels"

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

---

Workshop: Teaching and Learning in Philosophy

Location: University of Nebraska, Lincoln
Date: Saturday, November 2, 2019
Time: 8:30am – 5pm
Workshop Leaders: Emily Esch, AAPT Vice President, College of St. Benedict/St. John's University
Andrew Mills, AAPT Past President, Otterbein University
Jennifer Mulnix, AAPT President, University of Massachusetts Dartmouth

Application Deadline: SEPTEMBER 20, 2019

Description

Participants will read some of the best literature regarding how learning happens, how to design maximally effective courses, and how to improve classroom practice. The primary goal is not to provide tips, although we will provide some. Rather, the workshop is designed to enhance participants' ability to make effective pedagogical choices. The interactive sessions provide opportunities for participants to reflect with colleagues on how to individualize evidence-based best teaching practices to one's own idiosyncratic teaching contexts. Participants will learn how to identify and select challenging and transformative learning objectives and how to design and assess sequences of learning activities to make the achievement of those goals highly likely. The friendships and collegial relationships begun here can last a lifetime.

Comments from Past Participants

- "The seminar shifted and honed the way I think about and practice teaching in substantial ways"
- "Inspiring, fascinating, and incredibly helpful"
- "A must for anyone who cares about students"
- "An intensive boot-camp for learner-centered education"
- "Not at all like the typical (mostly useless) "teaching orientation" that most graduate students get"

Eligibility and Fees

There is no charge for members of the American Association of Philosophy Teachers. Only members may attend. Become a member today. Student membership is $25 and regular membership is $40. To join the AAPT at the same time you apply to participate in this workshop, go to:

https://www.pdcnet.org/aapt/American-Association-of-Philosophy-Teachers-\(AAPT\)).

Please see reverse side for application.

APPLICATION

American Association of Philosophy Teachers

Workshop on Teaching and Learning in Philosophy November 2, 2019

To apply please send the following two items to workshop lead facilitator: Emily Esch, emily.esch@gmail.com.

(1) Contact Information

Name:

Email:

Institutional Affiliation (if any):

Major Field(s) of Interest:

(2) In no more than 500 words total, provide both of the following:

(i) A statement of your interest in the workshop or description of what you hope to gain from the workshop.

(ii) A very brief description of your previous teaching experience and current teaching context.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: September 20, 2019

Contact Information

- For additional information about the workshop, please contact Emily Esch, emily.esch@gmail.com.
- For additional information regarding the AAPT please see the AAPT website at: <https://www.philosophyteachers.org> or contact Alexandra Bradner, Executive Director, alexandrabradner@gmail.com.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: September 20, 2019