

AAPT/APA Teaching Hub
Session on Teaching Philosophical Writing at the Central Division APA meeting

Call for Proposals
Deadline: September 4, 2018

The APA Committee on the Teaching of Philosophy and the APA Committee on Philosophy in Two-Year Colleges invite proposals for a session on teaching philosophical writing as part of the AAPT/APA Teaching Hub at the 2019 Central Division meeting of the APA, February 20-23, in Denver, CO.

We are seeking presentations on effective or innovative approaches to teaching philosophical writing in undergraduate or graduate classes. This is an opportunity to share your approach, advice and assignments with your colleagues, and learn from them as well. Presentations that discuss the feedback process are also welcome.

Format: The session will consist of three or four brief presentations (approximately 20-30 minutes in length) with additional time allotted for questions and discussion. Interactive presentations that are focused on audience learning are appreciated. Submissions from faculty at all types of institutions of higher learning will be considered.

Submissions: Proposals of no more than 500 words, prepared for anonymous review, should be sent to Aaron Champene, achampene@stlcc.edu by September 4, 2018.

Deadline for proposals: Tuesday, September 4, 2018.

Selection of Presenters: September 15, 2018 (expected)

Questions about this session should be directed to Aaron Champene at the above e-mail address.
